

CHINESE RED TROOPS MAY BE IN ACTION IN KOREA; CONCLUSIVE VERIFICATION MAY NOT BE MADE FOR SEVERAL DAYS, HOWEVER, INTELLIGENCE OFFICERS CLAIM

Prisoner Quoted As Saying Chinese Reds Can Send 600,000 Troops

REPORTS ARE STUDIED

ROK General Says China's 40th Corps Has Crossed Yalu Border

By Irving R. Levine
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

SEOUL, Oct. 27.—(INS)—U. S. intelligence officers, citing a prisoner's report that 50,000 Chinese Reds have entered the Korean war, said tonight it is definitely possible that Chinese Communist troops have been put into action in Korea.

The prisoner was quoted as saying he had been told China's Red army is prepared to send 600,000 troops across the Yalu river frontier from Manchuria to prevent any American "invasion" of Chinese territory.

The American intelligence officers in Seoul, International News Service learned, have submitted to headquarters commanders an official report stating:

"There is a definite possibility that Communist Chinese forces now are engaged in Korea."

This appraisal of the situation was sent to headquarters after a study of reports from the field, citing results of the questioning of two war prisoners identified as Chinese Red soldiers.

The intelligence officers cautioned however that the evidence of Communist Chinese intervention in the Korean war is still slim.

They said that, before conclusive verification can be made, several more days will be required, during which additional prisoners may be taken and interrogated and other supporting evidence gathered.

From the South Korean field headquarters town of Kunuri in North Korea, International News Service war correspondent Lee Ferrero quoted a ROK (Republic of Korea) general as saying China's 40th Corps has been sent across the Yalu border.

Maj. Gen. Yu Jae Heung, chief of the ROK Second Corps, said 40,000 Chinese Communist troops were committed to battle in the Unsan area, about 50 miles below the Manchurian frontier.

Ferrero quoted an American ROK military advisor group officer as saying prisoners taken in the Unsan sector reported Russian military advisers accompanied the Chinese troops into Korea.

The report submitted to headquarters by American intelligence officers was based largely on the story told by one of the war prisoners. He was identified as Shien Chung-Sun, 30-year-old Chinese laborer and farmer, who said he had served intermittently in China's Red army since 1947.

HERE AND THERE IN BUCKS COUNTY TOWNS

Activities of Interest To All In The Various Communities

CLEANED BY SCRIBES

Turning back the clock, members of Doylestown Presbyterian Church presented a historical pageant in full costume, Tuesday evening. This concerned the growth of the Deep Run-Doylestown Church and educational building. The story followed a history prepared especially by Horace M. Mann, curator of the historical museum, Doylestown.

The first scenes, placed in early times, were particularly interesting. The scenery, which was done in the modern manner of using partial background to indicate a full setting, was accomplished in such a skilled manner that the audience was only conscious of the beauty of it. Just a portion of the back wall was shown with the fireplace, church door, or pulpit against stained glass windows. The final scene was particularly striking in lighting effect.

Bits of history were narrated before each scene and hymns and sermons from the former periods depicted were used. The audience, which overflowed the educational hall, joined in singing.

Hit on the head Tuesday by an iron bar, Donald Evans, 18, son of Mrs. Jackson Evans, Doylestown, was taken to the Elm Terrace Hospital, Lansdale, with minor injuries. Evans, who is employed by the Floyd McNeil Construction Co., was helping place iron telephone poles near Lansdale, when one

Asks Veterans To Write About Their Applications

Clyde E. Rankin, Director of World War II. Adjusted Compensation Bureau in Harrisburg, states according to Richard J. Murry, Bucks County Director of Veterans Affairs, that the bureau postponed replying to the huge stack of correspondence from veterans and worked on issuing the bonus.

Rankin is quoted as saying: "Answering a hundred thousand letters is a stunt for Paul Bunyon. So the World War II. Adjusted Compensation Bureau didn't even start. Didn't have the personnel and didn't have the time. That's why your letter brought no reply."

Murry now sends words to veterans: "If you have never heard from your application since you filed it, write and tell us. If you have received your check, write and tell us or if you have received your discharge and not received your check, write and tell us. Make the letter short and give serial numbers and whatever dates you can."

"Mariners who have received partial payment are advised that there will be no supplementary checks until after the first of the year."

"No checks will be paid to any estate."

HUNTER EMPLOYEES REJECT UNION EFFORTS

Vote Down Attempt To Organize Production and Maintenance Workers

ELECTION YESTERDAY

An attempt by Local No. 585 of the United Automobile Workers C. I. O., to organize the production and maintenance group of the Hunter Manufacturing Corporation was defeated by a large margin in an election held under auspices of the National Labor Relations Board at the company's plant in Bristol township yesterday.

This is the second attempt by the organizing committee to organize the Hunter Corporation, manufacturer of aluminum storm windows, doors and other products at the Emille Road plant in Bristol township.

The management was quoted as being gratified by the vote of confidence extended by the employees to maintain the non-union shop conditions, under which they have successfully operated in the area for the past 10 years.

Automobile Dealers Oppose Drastic Regulation

Drastic terms imposed by an amendment to Regulation W cutting installment purchases of automobiles from 21 to 15 months is bringing an unwarranted and unjust hardship upon the average worker, Percy G. Ford, area chairman, National Automobile Dealer Association, declared today in a statement pledging the united effort of over 3,000 new car dealers with membership in the Pennsylvania Automotive Association in demanding that the Federal Reserve Board rescind its harsh order which became effective on October 16.

"Already the unequalled for action of the Federal Reserve Board is causing an undue hardship upon millions of low income workers whose livelihood depends upon automobile transportation," Mr. Ford stated. "These stringent terms will prevent the majority of prospective buyers from acquiring the transportation essential to the national economy and to the national welfare in this critical period."

"The new and stricter credit controls hit hardest the defense plant and low-income essential workers who need transportation most," he contended.

"In addition to imposing this unnecessary hardship on the working man," the official continued, "the amended regulation is also extremely detrimental to the entire automotive industry and the automobile dealer. 'Not only will it have a serious effect on sales, but if continued will result in unemployment of workers now gainfully employed in garages throughout the country.'"

Mr. Ford said the 15 month installment terms came within less than three weeks after Regulation W was issued limiting credit terms to 21 months despite the fact that there was evidence the latter was also causing hardship to workers, although to a lesser degree.

Charging that both Regulation W and the amendment were issued without any conference with representatives of the automotive industry in violation to Section 709 of the Defense Production Act, the official demanded that "the industry-wrecking 15-month terms" be immediately rescinded by the Federal Reserve Board.

He said that dealers are supported in their demand for rescission of the drastic 15-month credit terms by Fred L. Haller, president of the National Automobile Dealers Association, Washington, D. C., and Claude S. Klugh, of Harrisburg, general manager of the Pennsylvania Automotive Association, and the full membership of both organizations.

MEETS WITH OFFICERS

Joseph S. Neidig, Governor of the 265th district of Rotary International, made an official visit to the Bristol club in the Elks' Home yesterday where he met with the club's officers and committee heads in the morning, and then spoke to the members in the afternoon on the subject of "Rotarians as World Citizens."

The speaker, who is superintendent of the Quakertown Schools, sparked his message with emphasis on the importance of the Rotary ideal of service.

"Thoughtfulness of others is the basis of service, and helpfulness to others is the expression of this service. Together they form the ideal of service in Rotary," Neidig said.

"It is this ideal of service which puts Rotarians in the forefront for the development of a good international understanding, which in turn is the essence of good world citizenship."

"And Rotary is developing that thinking more than ever today with its Foundation Fellowship Program," Neidig pointed out.

The speaker also reviewed the other points of Rotary which include the developing of a better understanding among business and professional men, promoting community betterment, undertakings, and raising the standards of business and the professions.

SHOP WINDOWS ARE GAY FOR HALLOWE'EN

Youthful Window Painters Decorate Them; Vie For Prizes

JUDGING TOMORROW

Windows of establishments in Bristol's business districts have assumed gayer "dresses" during the past few days, and by this evening there will be still more that will be bright with Halloween themes.

The local window painting contest is now in full swing, and each day during after-school hours more and more pupils are to be seen wielding brushes — dipping them into paint pots for bright orange, red, green and yellow shades, or for the more subdued browns and blacks.

Chester W. Terchon Post, No. 5542, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is sponsoring such a contest for the third year. The start was in 1947, with the contest continued in 1948. Last year it was not held, but 1950 sees its resumption.

One hundred dollars in prize money will be divided among 10 pupils in two divisions this year. The divisions are: A—grades seven to nine inclusive; B—grades 10 to 12 inclusive. First prize in each division will be $20; second, $15; third, $10; fourth and fifth, $2.50 each.

Public and parochial pupils in the grades listed are participating.

Paints and brushes were donated by the Mill St. Business Men's Association and Harriman Business Men's Association.

When Mrs. Russell W. DeLong, Andrew MacArthur and Harold Snyder, the judges, start their task tomorrow afternoon, they will find a variety of subjects in various sized pictures. Some occupy windows 10 feet high.

The most popular themes among the youthful painters are cemeteries, witches' cauldrons, masqueraders, owls, corn-shocks, pumpkins, witches riding brooms against moon-lit skies, devils, black cats and the like. One small lad, dangling over a cauldron, is yelling "Help." In one picture a huge red devil armed with a three-pronged fork has a young girl tied to a tree. One of the paintings depicts the entrance to "Bristol Cemetery."

TONSILECTOMIES

Harriman hospital reports two tonsilectomy cases yesterday. Joseph Basile, Logan street, and Mrs. John Answorth, Emille road.

POLICE AT WAR TO BREAK UP THE HOT-RODDERS HERE

Mobilizing to Patrol in Private Cars to Halt Practice

ENDANGERS PUBLIC

Summonses Being Prepared To Seek Revocation of Licenses

A war is on between members of the "Hot-Rod Club" and police of the Bristol area. Police are going into an all-out effort to drive the "hot-rodders" off the highways in this area and are determined not to leave a single stone unturned in so doing.

The "hot-rodders" have organized into a club and 25 members are said to be listed. The members come from Bristol, Bristol Township, Tullytown, and Bensalem Township. Meetings are held and activities mapped.

The members drive various makes of cars and the oldest model is said to be 1947.

Last night, police patrolling in private cars throughout Bristol area, gave chase to one which went out Bath street at the rate of 55 mph. The driver failed to stop at the "Stop" sign at Bath street and Route 13 and then drove in a zig-zag course as police attempted to pass him, so as to halt the frenzied operator. The chase continued over Route 13 to Beaver street where the "hot-rodder" careened into Beaver street doing nearly 60 mph. The chase continued over Fourth, Third and Second avenues to Mill street, between Wood and Radcliffe streets, where the "hot-rodder" met a buddy. The buddy got his machine in between the police and the one sought, blocking them.

The "hot-rodders" have been making life miserable for motorists. They prevent motorists passing them and drive at hazardous speed over heavily traveled highways and in and around circular driveways. They operate between 9 p. m. and four a. m.

Sometimes, police say, the "hot-rodders" careen around corners at an angle of 45 degrees.

All of this, however, is going to come to a stop. The police are mobilizing and are going to crack down on the violators. Beginning tonight the police will be out in

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Well you can't say we don't try 'em all. . . . We tried 1930 with no money and that wasn't good, now in 1950 the government says too much money isn't any good either.

But this too much money isn't such a problem. . . . Gosh any government can figure out ways to take money from a taxpayer much easier than it can figure out ways to give him some.

So we ought to have this inflation under wraps quicker than you can say "Look out, she's startin' to get flat!"

Mr. Truman's chief economic council advisor says all we need is another still bigger tax increase as fast as we can get it and it will cut our purchasing power before it creates inflation.

There's no exact name for the program but I think it's known as the "You Make It We Take It" project.

Under this program the Government takes the money you might spend in a foolhardy manner on yourself and spends it for you in the wisest way possible. . . . say buying up butter.

That may raise the price of butter a little and dig into your envelope a little but at the end of each day you can be thankful you've been saved from having enough to buy a house or a new car.

Consider Delicate Brain Operation

Boston.—The American College of Surgeons today considered a proposal that a delicate brain operation be performed as "a legal substitute for euthanasia." It is described as literally "taking away the soul" of a patient. Dr. James C. White, chief of neurosurgical services at Massachusetts General Hospital, speaking at a session of the college's clinical congress, suggested that the operation—called leucotomy—be performed only in hopeless cases. The surgery would render the patient insensible to pain, but it would reduce the patient to a state of near-morosity.

King Gustav V. of Sweden Collapses at Court Session

Stockholm.—Ninety-one-year-old King Gustav V. of Sweden—beloved dean of European royalty—collapsed during a cabinet meeting in his suite at Drottningholm Palace today and there are grave fears he may not recover. Court circles admitted extreme concern over his condition. A brief bulletin said that the King is "extremely tired" and a more comprehensive communique is to be issued later in the day.

India Expresses Concern Over Invading Tibet

New Delhi.—The Government of India sent a message today to the Chinese Communists regime at Peking expressing considerable concern, surprise and regret over Chinese intentions to invade Tibet. The Peking radio two days ago said that Chinese forces are marching on Tibet to "liberate" its 3,000,000 people. Since that time there have been various unconfirmed reports that Chinese forces already have entered the secluded mountain territory.

LIFESAVING CLUES

The earthbound person may be wondering why an airline will go to the extreme of offering $100 reward for the discovery and return of a door that fell off one of its planes in flight. He may also be wondering why the Air National Guard is so all-fired anxious to get its hands on the plastic and metal cockpit canopy from the jet plane that cracked near Hockessin, Del.

The answer, in the two cases above, and the reason for the painstaking poking about the wreckage in the wake of air crashes, is a search for clues that may save lives. The canopy from the jet plane, for example, may have been the cause of the crash, or may have contributed to it, or maybe had nothing at all to do with it. But the most remote possibility cannot be overlooked.

A person may question the reason for picking over piles of fire blackened junk scattered over an acre, but look what happened in the case of the Constellation that flew into an Irish bog just after the war. Unhurried patience on the part of investigators resulted in the discovery that a faulty altimeter caused the pilot to fly the plane into the ground when he thought he had plenty of air under him. In the Memorial Day crash near Port Deposit, Md., several years ago, a sheared bolt pointed to an old structural weakness.

Finders of plane parts following a crash should resist the temptation to hold on to a souvenir piece. There may be a clue present that will be instrumental in saving many lives.

IS EVERYBODY CRAZY?

There is an old story about a man who was convinced everybody was crazy except he and his wife, "and sometimes I'm a bit suspicious about her."

Though this may have been a bit exaggerated, items in the daily news lead to the impression there are many unstable persons in society, if they are to be judged by the things they do. Much violent crime may be laid to those who are certainly off balance mentally.

Eager for more education, a teacher in the University of Michigan started on a career of purse-snatching, with a sideline of arson. A Detroit salesman, attending a convention, went out and beat up eight women and children.

A prominent judge in Indiana is in trouble over hot checks. A trusted woman office employee in Pennsylvania is charged with spending $49,000 of the firm's money betting on the horses.

Motorists are killing each other off at the rate of 100 a day. There is evidence of graft in high places, while a handful of foreigners is said to be more powerful than the courts of the land through political sponsorship.

There is a growing wave of cussedness throughout the land. Human life no longer is sacred, and if man is his brother's keeper he certainly isn't working at it during these troublesome times.

CHURCHES FEATURE OUTSTANDING EVENTS AT SERVICES FOR SUNDAY AND FOLLOWING WEEK

LAURENCE WACHHOLZ TO BE INSTALLED AS CROYDON PASTOR

On Sunday at four p. m. Laurence E. Wachholz will be installed as pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Croydon. Pastor Wachholz will be the third pastor to serve this congregation since its formal organization over 20 years ago.

Mr. Wachholz was born in Waco, Texas, Oct. 3, 1918, where his father was serving as camp pastor during World War I. In 1922, the Wachholz family moved to southern California where the elder Pastor Wachholz took up institutional ministry work.

Laurence Wachholz attended parochial school in Los Angeles. After one year of public high school he enrolled in Concordia College, Oakland, Cal. Upon graduation from Concordia Teachers College in 1940, he began studies for the ministry at Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill.

During a vicarage in 1942-43, he taught school at Dorchester, Wis. In 1944, he graduated from the seminary and accepted a call to the Gladstone-Gilead parish in Nebraska. While serving that parish, he also taught parochial school. After serving his first charge for three years, he followed a call to Shickley, Neb., and also served St. Paul's congregation at Grafton, Neb.

In June of 1947, he was united in marriage to Erna C. Buls, who at that time was serving as college nurse and dean of women at Concordia College, Seward, Neb. Mrs. Wachholz is the daughter of a former parochial school teacher, Herman Buls. She received her R. N. from Lincoln General Hospital and served two years with the Army Nurse Corps.

Parishioners feel that Mr. Wachholz's broad experience in the field of parochial schools fits him well for leadership in the work of St. Luke's parochial school of seven grades.

Pastor Dale Griffin, of Pilgrim Lutheran Church, Cheltenham, will preach, and Pastor C. L. Roth, Trenton, N. J., will be liturgist. Pastor Martin A. Berner, of St. Matthews Church, Phila., will perform the rite of installation.

Vacancy pastor C. L. Roth announces other services for Sunday as follows: Morning worship, 9:30 a. m.; Sunday School, 10:45 a. m.; Tuesday, eight p. m., special reformation day services; Wednesday, eight p. m., choir practice.

Humesville Methodist Church

Neshamony Methodist Church, Humesville, the Rev. Edward W. Stess pastor, services for Sunday: 9:45 a. m., Church School, C. W. Hafner, general superintendent; 11, morning worship, sermon, message from "Guest Preacher, Isaiah"; 6:30 p. m., Youth Fellowship; 7:30, concert of sacred music presented by the Allegro Choral Society under direction of Luigi Boccelli. Mr. Boccelli is widely known as the "blind Caruso," and his tenor voice has won acclaim of enthusiastic audiences from coast to coast.

254TH ANNIVERSARY SCHEDULED, BENSALEM PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30, the 254th anniversary will be observed at Bensalem Presbyterian Church, on Bristol road.

The Rev. Robert H. Heinze will be the guest speaker, and former ministers will be present to offer greetings as well as those from neighboring churches. The choir from Holmesburg Presbyterian Church will render selections.

The church is considered the oldest in Bucks County excepting the Friends. In 1697 a group of Dutch and Swedes decided to hold services which were conducted by Rev. Andrew Rudman. A plot of five acres was given by Thomas Stevenson to the congregation for a church and burial grounds. It was formally accepted by the trustees, Johannes Van de Grift, Herman Van Zandt, Johannes Van Zandt and Jacob Weston. In 1710 the church was dedicated and the Rev. Paulus Van Vleck was ordained pastor.

During the previous years the services had been held at the homes of members. Dr. Thomas Murphy in his book, "Presbytery of Log College" states "Without doubt Bensalem is the oldest church of this section." The most illustrious name connected with Bensalem is William Tennent who was known in history as the founder of Log College. He served as pastor for three years and while there started his first school for his own boys as well as those of his parishioners. He then was called to the Neshaminy church, in Warwick township. In the early records, mention is also made of the "Sammany" church now known as the North and Southampton Reformed Church, and the names of the early settlers are still to be heard in the vicinity as Vandegrift, Van Sant, LaRue, Vandyk and VanHorn. Some of the interesting notes recorded the fee for marriages at the ministers quarters as 10 shillings to be published on four previous Sabbaths, and nine shillings for each child baptized.

During the Revolution there were no church records. In 1772 Rev. James Boyd was ordained and installed as the pastor of both Bensalem and Newtown, and continued until 1817.

In 1858 a branch church was organized at Newportville, no building being erected but services held in the school. In 1886 another church was organized from Bensalem which is now the Eddington church and ministers served at both churches. In 1906, Dr. T. Clayton Welles went to Eddington and took a great interest in the work at Bensalem, and with his efforts students from Princeton Seminary supplied the church. In 1907, the old church burned and the present structure stands on the original walls.

BENSALEM TO TRY FOR 4TH STRAIGHT WIN

Bensalem Township High's grid-ers will try for their fourth consecutive win tomorrow afternoon as it meets Southampton High on the Street Road field. It will be the final home game of the Owls and will start at two o'clock.

Coach Marlon VanHorn's team, hit by injuries and illness, won a close 2-0 decision over Pennsbury last week to take undisputed possession of first place in the Lower Bucks circuit.

The Owls need the game tomorrow as a defeat may prove disastrous in their bid to retain the championship honors they captured last season and tied in 1948. Coach VanHorn has instructed his team on ways of stopping Howard "Sonny" Peak, mainstay of Coach Claude Lodge's team. Peak is one of the outstanding backfield players of Lower Bucks competition. He is more than a triple-threat, playing bang-up ball on the defense, calling the plays, passing, running the ball, and kicking. In the second half of the Bristol game last week, it was Peak who kept the greyhounds in the contest.

VanHorn lost a lineman in the Pennsbury tilt when Myron Mat-stocks was injured in the final play of the third quarter. In the last quarter, "Walt" Smith, tackle, was injured. It is believed that Smith will be able to play against Southampton. Bob Whitfield, signal-caller and passer, was also absent from the Pennsbury contest because of illness.

It is most likely that the Owls will start John Mellor and Dick Glyod at ends; Bob Scott and Smith, tackles; Dick Scott and Carington, guards; Gene Connolly, center; and Al Bader, Johnny Bowman, Bernie Broza, and Ballisty in the backfield.

BRISTOL GIRLS WIN HOCKEY GAME

The Bristol High girls' hockey team won its first game in four years of competition in the Lower Bucks County League by scoring a surprise 1-0 victory over Bensalem Township girls yesterday afternoon on the local field.

Julia Zanni's goal in the first ten minutes of the game gave the local girls the triumph. Both teams passed up several other scoring opportunities and Charlotte Bboz, Bristol goalie, came up with several nice saves to prevent the Owlettes from scoring.

Marjorie Gill played an outstanding game at left fullback and Martha Snyder, a freshman, gave a fine account of herself in filling in at left halfback for Joyce Kelly who is on the sick list.

Bristol meets Council Rock in a league fracas on November 9.

ing boys' and girls' work which develops stronger character," Dr. English said.

"In meeting the present emergency it may be necessary within the next two months for every Kiwanian to take off his coat, roll up his sleeves and get to work. In maintaining the values we seek to defend, let's throw off the cloak of complacency and as individuals realize what America means to us."

Lieut. Governor Joseph Malott, of Glenside, who presided at the dinner, announced that as of October 1, Kiwanis International was composed of 3,061 clubs with a membership of 200,352. The Pennsylvania district, he said, has 175 clubs with 11,244 members.

Lieut. Governor-elect Chester Flagler, of the Riegelsville club, who will take office next January, was presented. Kiwanian Flagler said that he would work for Pennsylvania district to reach the top in ratings, and for continued and increased interest in the 13th division. The guest speaker, Dr. English, was introduced by Past District Governor Elmer Menges, of Ambler.

A gift of silver candlesticks and a cream and sugar set was presented to Lieut. Governor Malott, on behalf of the 13th division by MacDonald Benton, of Norristown, the newly-elected treasurer.

ON OUR KNEES

The human race is face to face with what amounts to great disaster. With two world wars already fought, the peace sought, has not been bought. Because of that, we ought to say a fervent prayer for peace each day. It's time that we become aware of what great good can come from prayer.

It's time to do some thinking about the colder days soon to come. Of course, nothing can be done about the weather. But, your oil burner can be kept in such fine working order that you will enjoy good heat no matter how far the mercury may drop. All you have to do is take out a Maintenance Contract with Paul C. Voltz, Bristol Pike. With this contract, your burner and boiler will be cleaned, your burner will be on service, 24 hours around the clock and will be kept in smooth operating condition during the life of the agreement. Drop in today and get all the details. Phone Bristol 2123 and 2183.

BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL FIELD

Kick-Off: 8:30 P. M.

BRISTOL HIGH SCHOOL BAND WILL PLAY
AT HALF-TIME

SPORTSMEN'S BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Opens next Wednesday . . . after a respite of about eleven months small game in Pennsylvania will be on the defensive next week when men with their guns and dogs take to the fields and woods in search of rabbits, squirrels, quail, pheasants, Hungarian partridge and grouse.

The season will officially open on November 1st at 9 A. M., and an estimated army of a half million gunners will be on hand to greet the most important hunting season of the Commonwealth.

Hunting hours after November 1st are from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Daily bag and season limits, as well as open season dates are as follows: Pheasants (male only), 2 and 8, November 1st through November 25th; rabbits, 4 and 20, November 1st through November 25th; squirrels, 4 and 20, November 1st through November 25th; quail, 4 and 12, November 1st through November 15th; Hungarian partridge and grouse, 2 and 8, November 1st through November 15th.

More than 300 pheasants have been stocked on open hunting land in the Bristol area during the past few months, and in spite of the dense cover which still prevails, some fair shooting can be expected. Rabbits, too, have shown up well during the last several weeks, while squirrels are plentiful. Quail are almost non-existent in most of Bucks County, and only a few grouse and partridges are to be found within its boundaries.

There are many, many rules and regulations which must be observed while hunting in Pennsylvania, but most important of all of them are the commonsense rules of safety while handling a gun. Here they are: Always carry your gun "on safe" or with hammer down except when aiming to shoot; always be sure that you shoot at game that is clearly visible, and only then when there is no danger; always unload or break your gun before going over, under or through any barrier; do not carry a loaded rifle or shotgun in an automobile or other conveyance; do not place a loaded rifle or shotgun in or on an automobile, or in a position anywhere that it might fall and discharge; do not hunt, shoot or disturb wild birds or animals within 150 yards of occupied buildings without the occupant's permission; do not shoot at game on a highway or across a highway; do not hunt while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotics; do not shoot toward buildings or outdoor workers, livestock or poultry; do not hunt small game in parties of more than five persons; do not rest the muzzle of your gun on your foot; do not lean on the barrel of your gun; do not point your gun at anything you wouldn't kill; and keep your gun barrel clean from snow or mud.

Big trapshoot . . . this Sunday, October 29th, a 16-yard, 50 bird Lewis class big trapshoot will be run over the traps of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective, beginning at 12 noon. Entry in the Lewis class, however, is optional, and those who desire to practice shoot may buy just the shells and targets. All shooters are welcome to participate in the program. The traps are located on the Association's shooting grounds, just west of Bath Road at Silver Lake.

More fish for Bristol . . . a total of 4500 sunfish and catfish were placed in local waters yesterday by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, assisted by members of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association's Fish Committee. The fish, which were received from the Torresdale Hatchery, were distributed as follows: Silver Lake, 1000 catfish and 2000 sunfish; Maple Beach, 500 sunfish; the Canal from Bristol to New Hope, 1000 sunfish. The catfish were all sized while the sunfish were fingerling size. All were in excellent condition.

B. H. S. TO START FINAL BID FOR THE LR. BUCKS CROWN

Bristol High will start making its final bid for the Lower Bucks County championship tonight when it meets Neshaminy High in the second game of a double-header on the local gridiron. In the first game, starting at six-thirty o'clock, Bristol Junior High will meet the Delhaas Junior High.

Bristol is in third place in the circuit with two straight wins and a defeat and three games to play. It must triumph over Neshaminy or be practically eliminated from the running. The league-leading Bensalem Owls have won three games and are unbeaten, two points ahead of Bristol. The Warriors meet Bensalem on November 11.

A victory over Coach "Jim" Egli's boys will put the local gridiron in a position to have an opportunity of deadlocking or winning the crown. Should Neshaminy beat Bristol tonight, it will move into a deadlock with the locals for third place.

Coach Harry McClister, noting several weaknesses in the second half of the Southampton game last week, has again shifted several of his players. Dan Davis, who has been playing at center since the start of the season, will be doing some work at one of the tackle positions and to fill his gap, Coach McClister has moved Ned Albright to an offensive center with his aid being "Jim" Gallagher, erstwhile end. The main reason for this switch is to get more players down the field on kicks.

Coach McClister intends to use Bob Moss more at one of the tackle positions with Jack Meehan, former Township player, getting more action at a guard post. The other guard will be Tex Giagnacova, with "Bill" Gratz and "Charlie" Foltz playing tackle along with Norman Sorenson. The ends will be Ralston Hedrick and "Charlie" Rauch.

Bristol will lose Myrl Binkley for the tilt as he has been on the sick list. Frank Rubino has also been forced to give up football. Hard luck has trailed Rubino who broke his wrist last season and now is forced to the sidelines because of illness.

The starting backfield for the Warriors will be composed of "Lou" Loeffler, Andy Accardi, Jack Quinn, and Ercole Petrizzi.

Neshaminy started its season in a rather poor style in losing to Pennsbury and Riverside but since then the Redskins have bounced back in a hard-hitting manner and chalked up wins over Jenkintown, Lower Moreland, and Council Rock. Coach Egli has a pair of fine backs in "Lou" Maurer and Ray Mongillo and this pair have really gone on some ground-gaining sprees lately.

Last season, Neshaminy practically eliminated Bristol from the Lower Bucks championship with a 9-6 win.

In the opening game tonight, Coach Ben Watson's Bristol team is favored over the boys of Coacher Turk Ellis and John Antoni. Earlier in the season, Bristol rallied in the second half to beat the Delhaas lads.

"LOU" LOEFFLER

Has been doing a fine job of calling the plays for the Bristol High team. He will be at the quarterback position tonight as Bristol meets Neshaminy in a Lower Bucks County League tilt. Loeffler weighs 155 pounds and stands 5' 10".

NORMAN SORENSON

Who has been a tower of strength in the Bristol line this season, Sorenson, 5' 10", is a tackle and weighs 165 pounds. He will see action in tonight's contest against Neshaminy in the second game of a double-header.

BULLDOGS MEET PENNSBURY

An important Lower Bucks County League contest is scheduled for tomorrow night on the Robert Morris field, Morrisville, as the Bulldogs meet Pennsbury High. Opening kickoff is scheduled for eight o'clock.
